

Lilly sees setback on road closings

Contributed by Administrator
Thursday, 28 July 2005
Last Updated Monday, 01 August 2005

Bill McCleery from the Indianapolis Star writes on the fallout of Judge Hughes' recent decision. "An economic development official said he expects Eli Lilly and Co. to continue efforts to close sections of several Hancock County roads despite a legal setback last week to the company's plans."

- The Indianapolis Star (Indianapolis, IN)